Product Change Notice - left-hand screen door sliders

Dear Valued Customer:

Please be advised, LCI intends to change its left-hand screen door sliders to a more aesthetically-pleasing design. Currently the slider has "bubble" knob (Fig. 1). The new design has a more streamlined vertical handle (Fig 2).

There is no change in installation or operation with the new slider design. There is also no change in price. Since the screen door is part of the entry door, there will be no change in part numbers required. The change will be made around mid-April.

Please see table below for current and new part numbers for the sliders and their accompanying vertical mullions for purposes of service and warranty replacement:
