Product Second Source Notice - P2K bed lift motors

Dear Valued Customer:

Please be advised that Lippert intends to add a second source for our P2K bed lift motors to increase supply chain reliability.

Based on internal testing and supplier certifications, we have determined the additional supplier is capable of supplying motors that pass all performance requirements.

Adding an additional supplier for the motor will not affect the way in which the motors or systems are installed today. All touch points will remain unchanged. New motors will be 100% backwards compatible in service and warranty; combinations of current and new motors will sync seamlessly.

We intend to make this change on a running change basis depending on inventory and supply. There will be no part number changes required since the new motors are wholly interchangeable with the present version. There will also be no price change.
