VWGoA Notified of Takata Airbag Issue

Volkswagen Group of America (VWGOA) has been notified that Takata has filed a notice of defect to NHTSA on driver's side airbags that use the SDI and PSDI-5 inflators. VWGOA will cooperate fully in Takata's filing of this notice. VWGOA is unaware of any incidents or injuries in any of its vehicles caused by Takata driver's side airbags using the SDI and PSDI-5 inflators. Please note that this is an issue that relates to several affected OEMs. There is no action to take at this time. If customers call you, please direct them to Customer Care. We will provide more information as it becomes available.

Best Regards,
