44189 Some 2011-2014 F-Super Duty Vehicles May Exhibit An Optical Illusion Of The Rear Suspension Dog Tracking Or Axle Not Square To The Frame

Some 2011-2014 F-Super Duty 4x4 vehicles may exhibit a customer complaint that their F-Super Duty appears to dog-track. The front axle track width is wider than the rear axle track width. This difference in track width can cause an optical illusion that gives the impression that the vehicle is dog-tracking. If the vehicle is dog-tracking and it is not an optical illusion caused by the track width difference, refer to workshop manual section 204-00 for updated diagnostics and repair.
